Getting things done in Yaxley & Farcet

Chris is a former Art lecturer of 30 years experience. Now semi-retired, he lives in Haddon with his wife, Stephanie, and runs his own business producing stained glass and engraved glass. Chris takes a keen interest in local affairs and is very involved in the community.

Chris says "I believe that Yaxley and Farcet should have a new independent voice on the council, one that is concerned with neighbourhood issues and the preservation of decent quality services for local people. I feel that I am very approachable and, if elected, I will work hard for Yaxley and Farcet."
